

THE CHARLIE CART PROJECT

GROWING HANDS-ON FOOD EDUCATION

The Charlie Cart Project is a hands-on nutrition education program on wheels. The program centers around the Charlie Cart — a compact mobile kitchen complete with appliances and cooking equipment, a fully integrated K-5 curriculum, and training. With this turnkey program, The Charlie Cart Project empowers educators to lead cooking and nutrition lessons in any setting.

ABOUT US

Our Board of Advisors includes food system advocates Alice Waters, Michael Pollan, Olivier DeSchutter and Harold McGee. The Charlie Cart Project is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization

A READY TOOL FOR ANY COMMUNITY HUB

The Wyoming Department of Education has implemented Charlie Cart programs across multiple school sites, teaching basic life skills in rural communities

San Francisco Public Library demonstrates simple, healthy dishes at the Civic Center Farmer's Market

The Low Country Food Bank in Charleston, South Carolina teaches their clients, including teen moms, seniors and school children, how to use fresh produce

CHARLIE CART PROJECT IS A NATIONAL PROGRAM, ACTIVE IN OVER 20 STATES ACROSS THE COUNTRY

K-12 schools

Farmers' markets

Libraries

Food banks

Universities & community colleges

Hospitals

THE CHARLIE CART PROJECT

WHAT'S INCLUDED

- Full K-5 Curriculum with lessons and recipes, aligned to math, science and English language arts
- Equipment, including:
 - Compact convection oven (1800W/15AMP)
 - Induction cooktop (1800W/15 AMP)
 - Rinse station
 - Cookware
- Rinse station with greywater recovery
- Cookware and smallwares designed to get up to 30 kids cooking in the classroom

CONTACT INFO

info@charliecart.org

CART SPECS

DIMENSIONS

Height: 35 1/2"

Width: 26 1/2"

Length: 61 5/8" (handle to handle)

Weight: 450 lbs (fully loaded)

ELECTRICAL

120 Volt, 15amps

USE

The Charlie Cart is a mobile kitchen classroom designed primarily for schools, and is intended to be transported around a school or a single site.

SPONSORED BY

Breville

Cuisinart
SAVOR THE GOOD LIFE

Progressive

richlite

